Kevin Geraldi is the Director of Orchestral Activities at UNCG. In addition to conducting the University Orchestra, he conducts the Symphonic Band, teaches conducting, and directs our chamber ensemble, the Casella Simphonietta. He completed the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in instrumental conducting at the University of Michigan where he received a full fellowship to study with Michael Haithcock. Prior to beginning his doctoral studies, he served as Director of Bands at Lander University in Greenwood, S.C. Dr. Geraldi holds a Master of Music degree in conducting from the University of Michigan, where he studied with H. Robert Reynolds. He received his Bachelor of Music Education degree from Illinois Wesleyan University, where he studied conducting with Steven Eggleston. From 1996-1998, he was director of bands for the Westchester Public Schools in Westchester, IL, where his ensembles received top honors. Dr. Geraldi has served as assistant conductor of the Central Illinois and Michigan Youth Symphonies and as a guest conductor he has conducted honors groups in Michigan, South Carolina, and Connecticut. He maintains an active schedule as a clinician throughout the country. As a member of the Franklin Park Brass Quintet, Dr. Geraldi has toured the Midwest, New England, and South Carolina, performing recitals and conducting brass and chamber music masterclasses. Dr. Geraldi has studied conducting privately and in seminars with teachers including Kenneth Kiesler, Gustav Meier, Pierre Boulez, and Frederick Fennell. Most recently, he was a participant in the Conductor's Institute of South Carolina's opera conducting workshop at the Spoleto Festival, USA. Dr. Geraldi was named as the 2001-2002 recipient of the Thelma A. Robinson Award, an award presented every two years by the Conductors Guild and the National Federation of Music Clubs. 336-334-5435 or email: kevin_geraldi@uncg.edu.
